Nationwide Civil Defense Alert This Weekend

Explains Interference In Local Televisions

Crazy Man Crazy—but not cool—was pretty descriptive of the rampage the televisions of this area went on practically the entire week.

Dealers and repair services were run ragged with calls from owners of T. V. sets, frantically requesting service.

These men explained the acting up of the machines was due to atmospheric conditions, with neither the local channels nor machines at fault.

From far away places came in place of channel 6 from New Orleans. It seems there is a channel 6 out of Texas that is interfering in cluttering up the local 6 air waves, causing most of the interference on that station.

The entire area seemed to be affected, with interference starting last Saturday and continuing throughout the week. The trouble has apparently not cleared entirely yet. Men who know this business informed us on request that this situation is apt to occur at any time, if the weather is off normal.

Knowing what it means to be an ardent TV fan, with favorite programs, it becomes disconcerting, to say the least, not to be able to relax with one's favorite pastime.

However, remember the poor repair man, he has been spending liberally hours this past week on telephones, thus hindering his necessary working program. Don't call, unless you feel there is definitely something wrong with your individual set.

Confer first with friends or neighbors, and if they are experiencing the same difficulties, you will know then, it is the atmosphere, and that repair service cannot reach this phase of interference at the present time.

Reverend Hugh Taylor was honored Monday night by members of the local unit of the National Guard with a banquet held at the Armory. Shown in the picture are Lt. Kingston and Sgt. Adams with Rev. Taylor, who served as Chaplain for the unit.

Nation-wide including all United States possessions, Civil Defense will stage a week-end alert starting July 20, and extending for 4 or 5 days.

Ken Whitfield, heading the Hancock County C. D. Unit, attended a meeting last night held in the Hotel Markham, Gulfport, at which all Coast units were represented.

Whitfield advised that when the whistles and warning horns are heard on Friday at 12:45 p. m. the public is not to become alarmed.

Coast units of the C. D. coordinate to act as Support Areas for New Orleans, Mobile and Jackson, in the event of evacuation.

"Hancock County C. D. Teams will be faced with several problems," said Whitfield. "During 'Operation 56' period, Traffic Control, under Auxiliary Police head Lucien Kidd, will answer calls; Fire Control, under Chief Earl Ramond, and Rescue Service, under Chief Warren Buehler, will all have big problems to deal with."

For the first time, the City of Gulfport is actively coordinating in the operation. At the meeting Wednesday night, Mayor Billy Meadows was present along with several members of the Harrison County Board of Supervisors.

Deputy C. D. Director, Bill Adams, gave up-to-the minute instructions for personnel management during the operation period.

Throughout the United States, in large cities, evacuation will take place, but this area will not participate in this phase of the operation.

Participates In NAVAL CRUISE

Midshipman David Treutel, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Treutel, Bay St. Louis, is participating in "Operation Charlie," a naval midshipman cruise, comprised of 14 vessels, under the command of Rear Admiral E. S. McLean.

Treutel, a senior at Tulane University, is aboard the U. S. S. Corry. 1000 Midshipmen from 52 colleges and Universities are taking part in the cruise.

This Naval Squadron, which departed from Norfolk, Va., will visit New Orleans, July 25-30. This is the first time New Orleans has been selected as a port of call for a Midshipmen Cruise, and committees are busy arranging a reception for the men, with entertainment during their stay in the Port of New Orleans. Mayor deLesseps Morrison and Rear Admiral John M. Higgins, Commandant of the 8th Naval District, will act as honorary co-chairmen of the Citizens' committee.

Two New Courses At Pearl River Junior College

Poplarville, Miss., July 12 — President Garvin H. Johnston of Pearl River Junior College announces that the college has developed and is offering Drafting and Design Technology and Civil Technology, two new courses, which will start this fall.

These courses are designed as terminal courses to be completed in two years of study at Pearl River College. The student completing requirements for graduation in either course becomes qualified as a technician in that field.

The tremendous shortage of graduate engineers has led to more extensive use of technicians in all areas. The engineering technician is an integral and important member of the engineering team.

It is estimated by many industrialists that there is a need at the present time for 100,000 engineering technicians. It has been estimated that Mississippi alone needs 2000 engineering technicians in its present industrial program. The constantly economy of the South is demanding more and more trained engineering technicians.

In the process of developing these courses industrial leaders and engineers of the State and Southeast were consulted and suggestions were included in the curriculum. Students desiring to enter either of these two programs of study are urged to contact A. B. Nicholson, Dean of the college, Pearl River Junior College, Poplarville, Miss.

"...IT'S MY RUNNING MATE!"

"My telephone is my running mate," says a prominent Mississippi business man. "I reach for it whenever I need to be somewhere else in a hurry!... Your telephone is the world's greatest saving machine, of time, money and effort... and it's growing day-by-day in usefulness and dependability; in the number of people you can call and who can call you... still the cost is only pennies a day!"

Game And Fish Commission Promotes Four Wardens

The Game and Fish Commission promoted four first class wardens to the position of game warden supervisor, retaining six supervisors, and employed four more, according to Rex McManey, Executive Director.

In District No. 1, Lamar Switzer of Gulfport, Miss., who has been a warden since 1952, was promoted to supervisor. McManey said that Switzer's record as a warden was very impressive and that he made 140 cases during the past four years, and has done a tremendous amount of public relations work for the Commission in the Coastal Region.

In District No. 2, Warden W. A. Lumpkin, of Carriere, Miss., employed by the Commission in 1939, was promoted to supervisor. Lumpkin has had an outstanding record with the Commission having been supervisor of 36 counties during 1942.

In District No. 3, Gordon Strickland, present supervisor, was retained because of his devotion to duty and his great work in apprehending deer headlighters and telephone fishermen. During the past four years wardens under his supervision have apprehended and convicted 50 deer headlighters.

In District No. 4, R. B. Ball succeeds Game Warden Supervisor J. R. Hall who has retired under the State Retirement System. Mr. Ball has been engaged in construction work and live stock farming, and served as postmaster of Smithdale where he resides.

In District No. 5, C. L. Huff of Port Gibson, Miss., succeeds E. T. Chapman who has retired under the State Retirement System. Huff served on the Commission from 1952 to April, 1956. Huff has been engaged in general farming and cattle raising and is one of the best known sportsmen along the Mississippi River. He is a member of the Whitehall Hunting Club on the Mississippi River in Claiborne County.

G. W. Lee of Edwards, Miss., presently serving as game warden supervisor was retained in District No. 6. Lee was employed by the Commission in 1940. Lee's record with the Commission is a very creditable one. Last year he and his wardens made the largest dove violation case in the history of the Commission in Madison County. Three dove violators were fined a total of $1,255. Lee also obtained the largest fine against telephone fishing in the state. He is respected by all the judges and attorneys within his district.

R. L. Stone of Laurel, was retained as supervisor for District No. 7. Stone has served as supervisor since 1953 and was employed by the Commission in 1951. Because of Stone's relentless drive against game violations, he and three of his wardens were recently shot at from ambush while patrolling a deer area.

In District No. 8, Coyt Majure, popular warden and warden supervisor from Leake County since 1936, was promoted to supervisor. Majure has an outstanding record having been shot at and seriously wounded twice in carrying out the duties of his office. Majure was the first man to apprehend and convict a person for telephone fishing.

In District No. 9, L. R. Cain of Yazoo City, Miss., who was employed by the Commission in 1945, was retained as supervisor. Because of Cain's outstanding service the Game and Fish Commission promoted him to the position of supervisor in 1954. Cain while working under Supervisor Coyt Majure, assisted him in uncovering and breaking up violators selling game.

In District No. 10, O. B. Landrum of Winter City, Miss., was appointed supervisor. Landrum is engaged in farming and is President of the Winter City School Board and a steward in the Methodist Church in Winter City.

In District No. 11, Harold Reed of Acherman, Mississippi, was appointed game warden supervisor. Reed is a commercial hauler and in the cattle business. He is a life-long resident of Choctaw County, and has served as mail carrier. He is a Mason and a member of the Methodist Church.

E. S. Brown of Houka, Miss., was appointed supervisor of District No. 12. Brown was appointed by the Commission in 1941 and served as supervisor since 1945. He is widely known and very popular in the area where he is serving.

In District No. 13, Connie Davis was promoted to the position of supervisor. Davis is one of the two remaining original employees of the Commission. At one time he served as special assistant to Director Elder Dearman, and did extensive undercover work in breaking up game fish, quail, and wild duck selling.

In District No. 14, Noel T. Clarkson was reappointed supervisor. Clarkson was employed by the Commission in 1939 and was promoted to supervisor in 1944. Clarkson's district has included Grenada, Fald, Berde, and Arkabutla Reservoirs and he has had no trouble at any time. He has done an outstanding job in a most difficult district.

The dairy department at Mississippi State College offers service in both dairy production and manufacturing.
